

Dissemination and evaluation of the project

ACTTE (NAWA)

Dissemination and implementation – expected outcomes

- preparation and publication of 3 scientific articles
- participation in 2 scientific conferences at the international level
- organization of a seminar summarizing the project
- it is expected that each NGO employee will use the learned methods with at least two persons/clients (16 people in total), and each academic teacher will conduct at least one workshop with a student group, using the approach learned in the project (a group of 10 people x 4 teachers = 40 people)
- Additional solution: web page presenting the project (what should be included?)

Final seminar - decisions taken during the project Copil in Katowice 11-12.02.2020

- 1st day for external guests, 2nd day for project participants,
- During the 1st day: key note speaker/ Lieve and Roland presenting the DPA/empowerment, presentation of research results, the website and tool box presentation, participants experience expression + the workshops for external guests prepared by the project participants
- During the 2nd day: closing the process for project participants + project Copil

Evaluation

excerpts from the project application

- Each of the training sessions will be evaluated. Participants will complete questionnaires summarizing the training, including - among others - questions about the adequacy of the training methods used and the way the trainer works. The results of the inquiry will be the basis for a possible modification of subsequent training.
- The developed tools for working with excluded people will be tested by NGOs employees as part of Action Research. Each training session will be preceded by a presentation of the conclusions of NGO employees - such action will allow for adjusting the tools to the real needs of people involved in the work, as well as direct recipients of social assistance.
